

Nimone Campbell attended University of Regina briefly, before gaining her Bachelor of Applied Science in Occupational & Environmental Health at Ryerson University in Toronto, Ontario. She has been employed with the Saskatchewan Health Authority as a certified Public Health Inspector for the past 16 years, and is also the Board of Certification Exam Coordinator for her professional organization, the Canadian Institute of Public Health Inspectors of Canada (CIPHI). She is tasked with coordinating provincial examinations for graduating candidates wishing to be certified (and employed) as a Public Health Inspector in Canada.

Nimone's volunteer experience began at a young age as a youth dancer with the Caribe Folk Arts Dance Troupe (CFADT). CFADT is a youth based dance group under the Saskatchewan Caribbean-Canadian Association (SCCA). After graduating from Ryerson University, she returned home and soon became involved with the CFADT again. She has been the dance coordinator for the CFADT since 2007.

Nimone sat on the Board of Directors for the Moose Jaw College Daycare Board of Directors from 2005-2014. Nimone's positions included Member-at-Large, Secretary and Treasurer. She was also the treasurer from 2017-2019 on the Voyage Quebec '19 Board; a parent board in charge of raising funds and coordinating the bi-annual grade 7 and 8 trip for French students. Since 2015, She has had various positions on the SCCA Board of Executives including member-at-large, membership coordinator and VP of Finance. Nimone is currently in her second term as President of the SCCA.
